

SAT DEC 6 1986

Pair suspected of raping teen on date

ASSAULT

RICHMOND — A 16-year-old girl was taken out by a 17-year-old acquaintance and his 22-year-old companion on a date that authorities say ended with abduction and rape.

Contra Costa County sheriff's Lt. Al Snell said the 17-year-old called the girl Thursday evening and she agreed to accompany him to Oakland.

When he arrived at her home at about midnight, he was accompanied by his older friend, Snell said.

After leaving an Oakland location, which Snell did not identify, the two males refused to take the girl home.

Instead, he said, they drove her to several locations in Richmond and San Pablo and then to Parchester Village in Richmond, where she was sexually assaulted.

They next drove her to Brookside Drive in Richmond, where they raped her again and left her, he said.

The girl reported the incidents to the nearby sheriff's substation, Snell said.

He said Diego V. Maciel, 22, is being held in the county jail in Martinez for investigation of abduction and rape. The 17-year-old is being sought.

Man gassed, arrested after 9-hour standoff

By Catherine Schult

The Tribune

Assault

RICHMOND — A man who endured more than 1½ hours in his tear-gas-filled house was apprehended without incident last night after a standoff with police that lasted more than nine hours.

The man, identified by police as Tennessee Jackson, in his early 40s, was wrestled to the ground and handcuffed by Richmond police SWAT team members shortly after 8:30 p.m. in his home at 1448 Carlson Blvd.

No shots were fired and there were no injuries.

The incident began at 11:30 a.m. yesterday when police said they were called to the area by Diana Ferguson, 20, who lives across the street from Jackson.

Ferguson told officers she had been walking on the sidewalk in front of Jackson's house when he came out, grabbed her and made sexual advances towards her.

She ran into her home and called police. As she was talking to them, she reported seeing Jackson in a window holding a rifle, said police Sgt. Ray Howard.

A hostage negotiating team spent several hours attempting to get Jackson to leave the house without success, Howard said. As the hours wore on, it became apparent Jackson was drinking.

See STANDOFF, Page A-10

Continued from Page A-9

"We have indications that Jackson is in there drinking, and is becoming more and more intoxicated," Howard said during the standoff. At that point the decision was made to fire tear gas into the house.

Officers were surprised, however, when Jackson appeared unaffected by the repeated bursts of gas, which several times overwhelmed the large crowd of onlookers that gathered near Carlson Boulevard and Imperial Avenue to watch the drama.

Throughout the process police repeatedly called to Jackson to come out and give himself up, and on two occasions it appeared he was about to do so. But neither time did he actually leave the house.

At 8:30 p.m. officers used a battering ram to break the door down to give them a clearer view of Jackson's movements inside.

"The officers could see no weapon in his hand," Howard said. At that point police rushed inside, handcuffed Jackson and hustled him out to a waiting police car amid cheers from the crowd.

Howard said Jackson was booked for investigation of assault with intent to commit rape and would be taken to James Merrithew Hospital in Martinez for psychiatric observation. A decision would be made later whether any charges would be filed, Howard said.

"We were all amazed at the fact the tear gas had no affect on him," Howard said. He speculated that because Jackson had been drinking, his tolerance for the burning pain caused by the gas may have increased.

Residents along Carlson had varied opinions as to what may have sparked the conflict between Jackson and Ferguson.

There were reports that Jackson had been despondent since his wife and child had moved from the house about a year ago.

Residents said Jackson had a history of antagonistic behavior in the neighborhood.

But other residents took a different view. Janet Mitchell, who lives in the 1300 block of Carlson, described Jackson as a quiet individual.

"I feel sorry for the man," she said, "I see him in his yard working, minding his own business."

SAT JAN 2 1 1989

Woman found beaten, raped, police say ASSAULT

RICHMOND — A 35-year-old resident of the Richmond Annex in the southern portion of the city was severely beaten and raped yesterday and her car stolen by her attacker, said police. A man knocked on the door of the woman's home about 1 p.m. and forced his way in, said Richmond police Lt. Doug Maples.

THU APR 6. 1989
Teen raped in Richmond by gun-wielding man

RICHMOND — A 17-year-old girl was raped and she and her 17-year-old, male companion were robbed Tuesday by a shotgun-wielding man who confronted them as they walked along the shoreline near Pt. Pinole Regional Park behind Montalvin Manor. The man, who had a shotgun slung over his shoulder, pointed it at the couple and ordered them to disrobe and lie down, said Lt. Ray Howard. The man took personal items from the two teens, then tied their hands with their shoelaces. After raping the girl, Howard said, the rapist-robber tied the teens together and rode away on a black bicycle, believed to be a mountain bike. He was last seen headed north along the Southern Pacific Railway right of way. The man was described as a white male, 35 to 39 years, 5-feet-7 to 5-feet-11, 155 pounds, long dark hair worn in a pony tail with gaunt features. He was wearing a green Army-style cap, a fatigue jacket and blue jeans.